Pinon Hills - "Gem of the High Desert"

Pinon Hills is a unique community with an estimated population of 5500. The location is minutes from Phelan and Wrightwood, and together the three areas are known as the Tri-Community. Centrally located between Victorville and Palmdale, Pinon Hills is 90 miles from Los Angeles and 32 miles from San Bernardino.

The uniqueness of the community lies in the friendliness of the people and the freedom to live any chosen lifestyle. Some retirees lead quiet lives, young families lead busy lives, some folks garden and raise poultry, others may be horse enthusiasts. Some leave the desert as they found it - others enhance it with landscaping.

There are four seasons, each brief and blending easily into one another. Summer can Spring 80 to 100 degrees by day, with night time dropping as much as 40 degrees. Fall is usually a time of silence and gradual change. Darkness descends early, though days may still be warm. Soon, however, during the nights, heat may be needed in the dwellings. Rain may fall, and in the winter it may even snow. ~~Some~~ ~~the~~ night time temperatures may drop to 30 degrees or lower. Soon, longer daylight and possibly the winds. When they blow, it seems they will never stop, but the gusty period usually lasts only a few days. Spring is the most magical time in the high desert. Dry, spindly bushes produce beautiful blossoms, tiny wildflowers appear on the ground, and even the ageless trees, the Joshua's, bear a large pineapple shaped bloom the color of pure ivory. In total, the scene is one of indescribable (?)

beauty.
